

Add, Drop and Course Withdrawal

Effective as of: 02.16.2024

American University of Armenia

Policy for Publication

Policy Number: ACAD20140009

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to explain the official actions and processes (as well as consequences) regarding the adding or dropping of a course or withdrawing from a course at AUA. Note that different courses at AUA have different lengths and start dates. Within the following explanations, the “official date of instruction” refers to the first date of classes in general at AUA for the given semester or term. Also note that if students fail to withdraw from a course during the specified period, those students will receive an “F” (fail the course) if the course uses a letter grade evaluation or will receive an NP (No-Pass) for certain courses that don’t use letter grades.

Notes: See the Registrar's Office for the add/drop deadlines of courses that meet for less than three weeks.

Day = calendar day.

Day ends at 23:59.

There may be financial consequences for dropping courses once the term has begun (after the add/drop period) depending on student status, course type, and other factors. See the Withdrawal and Readmission and the Residency and Graduate Continuous Enrollment policies/procedures for more information regarding tuition and financial aid. Additionally, you may consult with AUA's Office of Financial Aid or the Registrar for further clarification.

Students are responsible for academic work in courses they add regardless of when the course was added. Check with your instructor to ensure that you are able to accomplish all required assignments/evaluations within the remaining time of the course.
